

Big Greeting Due For Santa

Santa Claus is to be accorded the biggest Andover greeting ever Saturday afternoon when the Andover Firefighters, assisted by the Andover Chamber of Commerce welcome the jolly old gent in their annual parade starting at 2:30 p.m.

George Thompson, chairman of the event for the Firefighters, who have provided the Santa greeting for many years, reports that several bands and floats are ready to participate along with the usual Sesame Street characters, Rudolph the Red Nose Reindeer, elves and other popular holiday favorites.

The parade will form and get underway at the East Junior High school parking lot and proceed to Punchard Avenue, down Main St. to the Shawsheen Plaza.

If possible, the Andover football team will be in the parade, if time schedule permits following their Super Bowl appearance Saturday morning.

Thompson reports that the bands preceding Santa on the parade route include the Andover High band, Methuen Cadets and Rangerettes and high school band, the White Eagle Drum and Bugle Corps, Shoemakers Drum and Bugle Corps, Sacred Heart Band from Lowell which features Christmas music.

The Andover Militia will be in the line of march along with school department floats, the Andover Elks, the Saints Not Sinners group of St. Bernards, and representation from the Wilmington and North Reading fire departments along with Smokey the Bear.

Assisting Thompson with the planning has been Walter Potvin and members of the Andover Chamber of Commerce.

This year there will be trophies awarded for outstanding participants in the parade.

Warriors To Defend State Title Saturday

By Rick Harrison

Don't think because this is Andover High's third straight Super Bowl appearance that the Golden Warriors or Head Coach Dick Collins are yawning through pre-game practices this week.

"I think we're more excited this time than the previous two," noted Collins Monday night, before settling back to watch the Miami Dolphins and New England Patriots on the tube.

"The first time (against Catholic Memorial) we were somewhat overawed by the whole experience," continued Collins. "The second time (last year against Salem) we were apprehensive after getting whopped (41-12) by CM."

But after its thrilling 21-20 overtime conquest of Salem last December, Andover heads into Super Bowl V with quiet confidence.

Providing the opposition will be Plymouth-Carver, whose 9-0-1 record matches the ledger chalked up by the Golden Warriors. The game site will again be Boston University's astroturf-covered Nickerson Field, and the kickoff is slated for 10 a.m. this Saturday. The rain date is Sunday.

Selectmen Examine Fact Finder Report

It's back to the negotiating table for members of the Department of Public Works employees and town administration, following receipt of a fact finder's report this past week.

Negotiations between the town and representatives of the State, County, Municipal Employees union, representing the DPW workers, have been going on for a year.

Monday night the selectmen met with Town Manager J. Maynard Austin and Town

'Tis The Season

Andover Lineup

The opening backfield will consist of Tri-Capt. Bill Alexander at quarterback, Ken Lafleur at left halfback, John Fabiani at right halfback and

School Openings Advertised In System

Notices of openings for an office manager and a maintenance coordinator have gone out within the Andover School System.

The job descriptions were approved by the school committee last week.

Combined, they are designed to temporarily fill the school business manager slot which was vacated when Ed Weil resigned last March.

Long-term, however, many of the duties may be taken over by a central purchasing agent and a central maintenance engineer for the town.

The expectation is that someone already in the school office will take on the added office manager responsibilities, for an additional $2,000 a year. Sam Arcidy, assistant business manager, who has been performing many of the duties since Weil left, has expressed interest in the job.

The maintenance coordinator, who may come from the custodial ranks, would receive an extra $1000 salary.

Committeeman George Olesen objected last week both to the "short term" nature of the jobs, and to the extra $1000 for the office manager.

Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert countered that the office manager would have "complete responsibility" for such areas as purchasing, bid speculations and bidding, while the maintenance position is "in one area and one area only."

Olesen also challenged that the administration had forced "delay upon delay upon delay," and that "once again at the 11th hour we are being asked to vote for a short-term solution."

Applications for Weil's position were taken after he resigned, but the administration never found anyone they considered suitable. This fall, they recommended the two-headed solution.

Committeeman David Ahouse said Olesen was right "when he says 'footdragging'."

"But," he said, "the committee is at fault as well."

Olesen also said he wanted the new positions advertised within the system, and charged that someone had already been selected by the administration, and that the $2000 salary had been tailored to fit that person.

Seifert said there were three people in the central school office "who could fill that position very well."

Olesen's motion to lower the office manager salary to $1000 failed for lack of a second. He did, however, get support for a motion that the person chosen have some "post secondary" training.

In other personnel action, Fred Baker, an industrial arts teacher at the High School since 1972, was elected to tenure.

Failure of the committee to follow the administration's recommendation to make the action retroactive, however, may set a precedent for the future.

Personnel Manager Robert Olsson had recommended that Baker's tenure be made effective September 15, the date on which he received his Massachusetts certification in industrial arts. Such certification is a prerequisite for tenure here.

Committeeman Olesen said he didn't see why the committee should "continue" the practice of backdating personnel action, however, and his colleagues went along.

They also established a policy on advertising for personnel to fill extracurricular positions.

Olesen brought up the question when Mrs. Patricia Doran of Andover, a "civilian," was approved as dramatics coach at West Junior High.

According to the administration, no school personnel applied for the position and Mrs. Doran had had "extensive experience" in dramatics.

School people will still be offered first crack at extracurricular activities, but in the future, the committee decided, positions will next be advertised to Andover residents via the TOWNSMAN.

In other action, the committee accepted the resignations of Mrs. Barbara Acton and Mrs. Mary Dowd, instructional aides at Doherty and Bancroft Schools, respectively. Both had been with the system since September, 1972.

Mrs. Janet Sakelakos of Peabody was elected to teach Unit C at Shawsheen, replacing Mrs. Grace McCabe. Mrs. Beatrice Chadwick of Andover was appointed a parttime instructional aide in learning disabilities at the high school, while Mrs. Barbara Merkel of Andover was appointed parttime instructional aide in special needs at West Elementary, and Mrs. Mary Jane Powell of Andover, I.D. instructional aide at the high school.

Artists To Produce Mural

The Andover Artists Guild, for its Sunday, Dec. 7, 2:30 p.m. meeting at the Bay State National Bank, Andover will present two talented painters who will produce a mural.

Rick Hilker, Pelham, N.H., from his year in the Air Force, has lived, studied, and exhibited his paintings in various parts of the United States. He paints mostly in oil, occasionally water color and acrylics, drawing his subjects from the varied New England seas and landscape.

Chris Stavros, of Chelmsford, studied at Ken Pilsbury school, Boston, at the DeCordova Museum, Lincoln and Gloucester. His subjects include still life, land and seascapes in oil.

Holiday refreshments will be served by Hospitality Chairman Dorothy Corkhill, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Hilton, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Carson, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Mahanke, Mrs. Robert Hatton and Howell M. Stillman.

The public is invited to attend.

'Season Of Sharing' At Bank

The Lawrence Cooperative Bank of Lawrence, Massachusetts will present the "Season of Sharing Festival" in conjunction with WLLH and the Greater Lawrence Community Action Council through Thursday, Dec. 18. Families are being asked to bring canned goods, clothing and toys to either the main office at 300 Essex St., Lawrence, or the branch office at 4 Main St., Andover. These items will be distributed to needy families throughout the Greater Lawrence area during the holiday season. The bank will be giving away small gifts as a token of appreciation.

WLLH-Radio will hold two remote broadcasts at the bank's main office. The first was Tuesday, Nov. 25. The second remote broadcast will be held Thursday, Dec. 18, from 11-2 p.m. Children will have the opportunity to tell Santa what they want for Christmas and also have their picture taken with him as a gift from the Lawrence Cooperative bank for their parents.

During the four week festival a penny barrel will be on display. Children accompanied by their parents get to reach into the barrel. It's full of pennies, mostly Lincoln cents, but some steel pennies are hidden throughout the barrel too! Every child gets to exchange the penny for a little gift, but if they find a steel penny they win a better prize for their parents.

Shriver, Sanford Due At College

Campaign '76 comes to Merrimack College in North Andover on Friday, Dec. 5 and Monday, Dec. 8.

Sponsored by the Student Activities Association, Campaign '76 at Merrimack is an ongoing lecture series which features major political candidates during the 1975-76 academic year.

Former Director of the Peace Corps and 1972 Vice-Presidential candidate, R. Sargent Shriver will speak in the Perkins Lounge of Gildea Hall on Friday, Dec. 5 at 1:45 p.m.

Terry Sanford, currently the President of Duke University and former Governor of North Carolina, will talk with faculty and students on Monday, Dec. 8 at 10:45 a.m. in the Perkins Lounge of Gildea Hall.

A native of Maryland, R. Sargent Shriver graduated from Yale University in 1938 and the Yale University Law School in 1941. He served five years in the U.S. Navy during World War II. For 12 years, he managed the Merchandise Mart in Chicago and from 1955 to 1960, he headed the Chicago Board of Education.

From 1961 to 1965, Shriver directed the Peace Corps which mobilized thousands of trained volunteers to help people improve living conditions in more than 50 countries in Africa, Asia, and Latin America. He directed the new Office of Economic Opportunity from 1964 to 1968. In this capacity, he created and organized Head Start, Community Action, VISTA, and the Job Corps.

From 1968 to 1970, Shriver served as United States Ambassador to France. He was nominated as Senator George McGovern's running mate in the 1972 election.

A native of North Carolina, Terry Sanford is a graduate of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Following combat service in the U.S. Army during World War II, he returned to the University of North Carolina's Law School. He entered private law practice in 1948 and was elected to the State Senate in 1953.

Sanford was elected Governor of North Carolina in 1960. During his four years as governor, he was recognized for progressive leadership in education, industrial development, and civil rights throughout North Carolina. He also established the first state long-range planning office in North Carolina and advanced the causes of general court and prison reforms.

Following his term as governor, he created the Institute of State Programming which has assisted over 30 states in establishing planning offices. He has also served on the American Bar Association special committee on judicial improvement.

In 1969, Sanford was named President of Duke University, which position he now holds. From 1971 to 1973, he was Chairman of the National Council of Independent Colleges and Universities which represents over 1000 private institutions throughout the United States. The author of two books, he is currently Chairman of the Democratic Party Charter Commission.

The first two lectures of Campaign '76 at Merrimack are open to the public and there will be no admission charge.

Seek National Recognition For Shawsheen

Shawsheen Village From The Air

An aerial view of Shawsheen Village taken before the construction of Route 495. Particular note should be made of the relationship of open space and recreational facilities to the residential, commercial and industrial uses. Those familiar with Shawsheen will readily note that a photo taken today would differ little from this earlier print.

By Phil Salamone

While it is generally known to residents of Andover that Shawsheen Village is the product of the vision of one man, William Wood of the American Woolen Company, a number of Shawsheen residents are dedicated to obtaining the national recognition this experiment in planned communities so justly merits.

Shawsheen is one of the few communities in this country which is the product of the careful planning of the relationship of employment, commercial, residential, educational and recreational areas.

Particular note was made of this Shawsheen quality at the forums held this past year which were co-sponsored by Merrimack College and the Merrimack Valley Textile Museum. So well planned is Shawsheen that it has withstood the test of time. The community was conceived and constructed in the early twentieth century and yet, to this day, has undergone little change. The stability of this area is a tribute to the competence of those who designed and constructed the village.

The members of the Historic District Study Committee are dedicated to the placement of that part of Shawsheen Village mentioned above on the National Register of Historic Places. The goal of the committee is, through the creation of a Shawsheen Historic District, to protect and improve the quality of life in the village, and at the same time have it officially designated a historic site.

By its designation, Shawsheen will join the ranks of other national historic districts such as those in Newburyport, Salem and Boston. The efforts of private citizens in those communities have produced noteworthy accomplishments. The committee feels that Shawsheen is no less deserving of such attention and concern.

The Historic District Study Committee is a part of the Friends of Shawsheen

Neighborhood Association. It will report on its progress at the next general membership meeting of the Association to be held at Shawsheen School at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 9. The committee will ask the association to sponsor a public meeting to be held tentatively on Jan. 8, 1976. The purpose of the public meeting will be to provide all interested parties the opportunity to be informed of both the reasons for and the effects of Shawsheen being a National Historic District. The public meeting will be attended by a representative of the State Historic Preservation Officer of the Massachusetts Historical Commission.

The committee and the association welcome the support and comment of anyone concerning the creation of the historic district.

An appropriate forum for such comment is the next general membership meeting of the association scheduled for Tuesday, Dec. 9.

The cast included Deana Martone as Molly, Billy Foley as Billy, Bruce Deacon as Ralph, Sharon Barry as Cindy, Derek Roberts as Sam, Debbie DiFrancia as Mabel, Timmy Wackowski as Johnny, Teddy Silverman as Mike, Susan Miller as Penny, Karen Miller as Miss Harper, and Sandra Cookson as Rose.

The children made their own costumes and props. The presentation was enjoyed by all.

Bad Weather Calls For Caution

"Nobody likes to be outside when the weather's bad, but this is the time when pedestrians must be extra alert for potential traffic hazards," commented David J. Christensen, Executive Vice President of the Automobile Club of Merrimack Valley.

"Some areas of the country are blessed with balmy winter weather, but for most of us it's rain, snow, ice, or maybe even a combination of all three," continued the AAA spokesman. "Snowy or icy streets cause slick conditions and necessitate longer stopping distances for vehicles. In fact, it takes a car ten times as long to stop on glare ice as it does on a dry road surface. Therefore, it is imperative that motorists use extreme caution when driving during inclement weather."

Mr. Christensen explained that pedestrians also have to be careful when out in the elements. "Avoid the tendency to hurry across intersections to get out of the cold and snow. Take the extra time to make sure no traffic is approaching. And remember - dress warmly, but make sure your vision isn't obstructed by excess clothing."

This month's winning poster is the work of Don Maines, age 13.

According to Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert, the cost of the four terminals, will be covered by monies from last year.

The terminals themselves cost $12,000, plus $1,000 for installation, and $1,000 for maintenance contracts. The last item is replaced every year.

Chairman Frank Olmstead, lone "no" vote, said 80 percent in favor of the computer for enrichment of an "extension" of the curriculum. However, he said, he thought students might come to the basics, rather than cope with basic and the like by hand.

Bus Budget To Be Slightly Less

Andover's school bus budget will be slightly less next year, according to a preliminary go-round on the 1976-77 tab by the school committee last week.

Despite an attempt by Committeeman George Olesen to cut back even further, Chairman Frank Griggs recommended a three-year "freeze" at $331,000.

Assistant Business Manager Sam Arcidy had proposed a $331,623 total for transportation. This year's appropriation is $331,844.

Even so, Olesen said there will be even less money forthcoming from the state, so buses will actually cost the town more.

The state is shifting its financial burdens from itself to the local communities by cutting reimbursements, he said. "Are we going to maintain our level of service at an added burden to the local taxpayer?"

One area that could possibly be cut back, he said, is transportation for pupils who are temporarily physically handicapped.

"I don't know of any other community that offers this luxury," he said.

He also suggested that pupils could walk further to their bus stops, cutting back on bus mileage and allowing the buses to make their rounds quicker. He said that might mean more rounds by a single bus and fewer buses.

Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert said the committee could look at the law to see what the town is required to provide, and then put a dollar sign on the required services and work up from there.

In other bus action, the committee approved a contract with Bob Charles for buses for Lesley

College students at $59.40 per day, or $3801.60 for 64 days.

Under this program, the town provides transportation for the students, who in turn serve as student-aides in Andover classrooms.

Four More Terminals For Computer Class

Four more computer terminals, to beef up last year's $35,000 computer gift from the Digital Corporation, were approved by the school committee last week.

The new terminals, according to Math Department Head Jim Murphy, will significantly increase the instructional capabilities at the high school. In addition to teaching computer sciences and providing drill for many courses, he said, the computer could also eventually be used for administrative uses such as grade cards and scheduling.

According to Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert, the $16,970 of cost of the four terminals at the outset, will be covered by unused monies from last year's budget.

The terminals themselves will cost $12,000, plus $780 for installation, and a $4190 maintenance contract with Digital. The last item will recur every year.

Chairman Frank Griggs, the lone "no" vote, said he was "100 percent in favor" of using the computer for enrichment and as an "extension" of classwork. However, he said, he felt that students might come to rely on it for the basics, rather than learn to cope with basic computations and the like by hand.

The poster, bearing the message "Driving alone is exhausting," is available free of charge by writing to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Public Affairs Office, Room 2230, JFK Federal Building, Boston, Mass. 02203.

Holiday Brunch Is Scheduled

The Andover League of Women Voters will hold its annual Holiday Brunch on Tuesday, Dec. 9 at 9 a.m. at the home of Fran Hughes, 13 Lockway Road.

Once again this year League members will be enjoying good food and thought provoking discussion along with some holiday socializing.

The focus of the meeting will be the selection of a viable program with suggestions from the membership on national issues of particular concern to the individual. The final decision on programs will be made by the delegates this May in New York.

In addition, the members will be asked to consider which present program items they would like to see dropped, emphasized or reevaluated.

Babysitting will be available at the Unitarian Church, 244 Lowell St. Please contact Linda Smith.

Stirring And Entertaining

Essential to the success of any schoolboy football game is the stirring music provided during the contest by the band and its half-time entertainment. Here, the Andover High Band performs one of its routines during a half time show.

Conservationists Oppose Post Office Site

The Conservation Commission has joined the planning board in opposition to the proposed new location for the Andover Postal Facility.

The planning board has objected to the new building to be located on acreage off Andover Street owned by Sidney P. White, diagonally across from the dairy, real estate building and American Power Devices plant.

The postal department earlier this month signed a purchase agreement with White for the land. Town officials have been asked to provide alternatives to the site for the relocating of the postal facility from its present Main Street location. The town has until Feb. 1 to provide alternatives before the post office acts on its options.

The Conservation Commission in its statement following its meeting this week stated:

"The Commission concurs with the Planning Board in its adverse reaction to the proposal. Not only would such a facility in this location be a drastic inconvenience to many citizens, particularly the elderly, a generator of traffic along a route never designed as a main artery and already overburdened, a contravention of all the recent planning to preserve and enhance the Central Business District while protecting the surrounding residential areas from commercial encroachment, but would be also a drastic mistake from a conservationist's point of view.

"The core of our open space plan is and has always been the Shawsheen River valley with its string of reservations and recreational facilities in this area (Pomps Pond, Shawsheen Reservation, Bakers Meadow, Indian Ridge). Any development in this area other than residential will undermine the efforts of years to maintain the rural character of the town and protect its natural and historical heritage. The presence of existing commercial/industrial development there is a historical accident dating back a hundred years before zoning and should provide no excuse for expansion of intense development in the vicinity.

"We, the members of the Conservation Commission, wish to register strong protest that any branch of government, including the federal government, can at will overturn the very plans it has encouraged and sometime ordered the town to make for orderly development and the preservation of natural resources.

"The Conservation Commission expects to join the other Town Boards and officials in seeking an alternative site, which should meet the dual criteria of improving the existing business areas and protecting the natural resources of the town."

Orchestra To Play

At 4:30 on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 7 the Phillips Academy Chamber Orchestra will present the preludes to the school's traditional Christmas Carol Service, which takes place in the Cochran Chapel on the school campus.

All of the music chosen is from the Baroque Era (1600-1750), a period in church musical history that many consider exhibits unexcelled inspiration.

The ensemble is directed by William Schneider of the Music Department faculty. Carolyn Skelton, school organist, will play continuo parts on the Martha Cochran organ. The soloists are Sam Landsberger and Fong Wang, violinists, assisted by Trina Wellman, cellist, all members of the senior class at the Academy.

Gifts on Christmas Eve in Germany are brought by the Christ Child, who always has bands of angels to help him carry the gifts.

Warriors Slash To Super Bowl Via 6-6 Tie

What A Super Bowl Bid Is All About

Adequate evidence that Andover High really earned their super bowl berth is given in this shot of action during last Thursday's game with Central Catholic at Lawrence Stadium, which ended in a tie. Those mud-slicked uniforms belong to Andover's Golden Warriors who started the day in solid white.

By Rick Harrison

"I won't even remember this game if we win next Saturday," observed Andover High All-Scholastic wide receiver and safety Glenn Verrette.

Verrette made the statement last Friday, 24 hours after the Golden Warriors slogged to a 6-6 tie against Thanksgiving Day rival Lawrence Central in a driving rainstorm at Veterans Stadium.

It was a mudbath that should have been officiated by lifeguards, and swim-fins should have been mandatory equipment, and that's one reason many of the 7,500 fans in attendance would like to join Glenn and forget the game.

It emerged as one of those "good news-bad news" situations, with more on the plus side than the minus side.

The bad news was simply that Andover's 36-game regular-season win streak was stopped, being converted to a 37-game undefeated skein. So now the Warriors must wait at least eight years before they have a shot at the National schoolboy record of 72 consecutive wins, established and halted recently by Hudson, Michigan High.

The good news was twofold, as Coach Dick Collins' crew clinched its third successive Merrimack Valley Conference crown and earned its third consecutive Eastern Mass. Division II Super Bowl berth.

AHS closed at 8-0-1 in the MVC and 9-0-1 overall, while Central capped the campaign at 7-1-1 in the Conference and 8-1-1 for the year. The latter mark was the best ever in the school's 40-year football history.

The contest Verrette and all other team members want to win Saturday is Super Bowl V. The opposition will be provided by Division II point leader Plymouth-Carver, also 9-0-1, and the site is once again the astroturf at Boston University's Nickerson Field. Kickoff is at 10 a.m.

Deluge Dampens Drives

The rain played havoc with both offenses in the third annual Turkey Day struggle.

Some hinted it hurt Andover more because of its passing

Special Ski Film At Library

A special film program on skiing will be held Sunday afternoon, Dec. 7, at the Stevens Memorial Library.

The feature film is "Swiss Challenge" which deals with summer glacier skiing in Europe. "Swiss Challenge" is an action packed ski/mountaineering film shot on location in the rugged Pennine alps.

The film is loaned to the Stevens Library by Nat Stevens of North Andover.

In addition, two films on skiing will be shown following the feature. "Swiss Challenge" begins at 2:30 p.m. Children must be accompanied by an adult.

Belly Dancing Among Y Programs

A new offering, belly dancing for women and high school girls, will feature the Winter Term Dance programs of the Andover-North Andover YMCA. The belly dancing course will be conducted at the North Andover YMCA building (Community Center) under instructor Delia Gynan and will be open to any category of YMCA member or the general public. Prior registration for this and all other dance programs is required at the new YMCA building, 165 Haverhill St., Andover, beginning Dec. 17. A morning 10 week course will be conducted on Fridays 10-11 a.m. and an evening program on Thursdays 7-8 p.m., both beginning the week of Jan. 5. The basics of the Middle East or Arabic style of dancing, now the latest dance craze in this country, will be covered. The ancient art has values of production of muscle tone, grace, posture and total physical fitness, if practiced with regularity, which are generally less evident than the sensuality generally recognized.

A variety of other dance programs will also be listed in the term folder to be released by the YMCA Dec. 12th. Open to adults and high school youth of the general public will be Ballroom Dancing instruction on Tuesdays under Marie Parker and featuring the basic American and Latin dances such as Waltz, Foxtrot, Polka, Line Dances, Rhumba, Tango, etc. Beginners will meet at 7:30 - 8:45 p.m. and others 8:45 - 10 p.m., both classes at the North Andover "Y" facility. Also at the same building will be Folk Dancing under instructor Herb Matthes offered on a beginners' level on Mondays 8-9:30 p.m.

Ballet and Tap Dancing classes will be scheduled at North Andover for pre-schoolers and for girls in grades 1-4, both being taught by instructor Carol

Fugere. Open only to Full Privilege Members will be a Dance course and a Dance for Gymnasts course, both five week programs starting the week of Feb. 11 under instructor Janet Cooper. The first named program will serve girls in grades 7-12 plus Merrimack College students and the second will serve girls in grades 1-12. Both will include instruction in Ballet, Jazz and Modern Dance. Instructor Janet Mead will teach courses in Rhythm and Dance open to girls in grades 1-3 and 4-6.

Ski Classes At Y

Greater Lawrence YWCA will start the ski season with a special pre-skiing evening on Dec. 1 at 7:30 p.m. There will be a discussion of ski equipment and clothes; fitness exercises demonstration to get set for that first snow fall, and a film on skiing. Also bring your equipment for evaluation and suggestions. Program will be presented by Albert Retelle, Certified Professional Ski Instructor and Evelyn Retelle, Instructor and Ski School organizer.

Also the YWCA will be offering ski classes for adults, children and tots.

Ladies (all levels) start January 6 and 7, Tuesday or Wednesday, from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. for 5 weeks. Children and adults (Co-ed - 8 years to adult), Saturday or Sunday 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. for 6 weeks, starting January 3 and 4. Tot classes for children 5-7 will start January 3 at 1 p.m. - 2 p.m. for 4 weeks. All classes will be conducted at the Merrimack Valley Ski Area, Hampshire Road, Methuen.

Valiant Effort

As umbrella and rain-gear crowd looks on, mud-coated Bill Alexander attempts field goal try during last Thursday's action in which the Golden Warriors and Central Catholic fought to a 6-6 tie.

Warriors

game, others argued Central's potent ground game suffered the most.

Neither club was able to display its full talents, and the rivals squared off over the vehement objections of the Andover coaching staff.

Slippery underfooting blunted the Red Raiders' game-opening drive, but the initial break went to Central when AHS fumbled on its very first play and CCHS Co-Capt. Kevin McDermott covered the ball at the Andover 19.

Pat Welch skidded seven yards on two carries, and Deryck Bacon added four to give the home team a first down at the Warriors' eight.

But Welch bobbled the ball away on the next formation, and sure-handed Mark Farnham pounced on the slick pigskin for Andover.

Shotgun!

Well-prepared for lousy weather, AHS came out in a shotgun formation to give quarterback Bill Alexander more time and operating room.

Super Bowl Tickets

Tickets for the Super Bowl game between Andover and Plymouth-Carver at Boston University on Saturday, Dec. 6 can be purchased at the Andover High School Athletic Office daily from 8-5 and 6-8 p.m. on Thursday evening.

All game tickets are $2.00 if bought at school and $3.00 at the game. Bus tickets may be purchased at the Athletic Office for $1.25 each. The spectator buses will leave Andover High School at 8:20 a.m.

It was the first time the locals had used the set-up currently being employed by Coach Tom Landry's Dallas Cowboys in the NFL, but it was a rude beginning as defensive end Jay Howlett stormed through to nail Alex for a nine-yard loss following six-yard runs by Alex and John Fabiani.

Bob Hoelzel, who punted four times for a remarkable 31-yard average despite a slightly-sprained right ankle, lifted the Warriors out of deep trouble with a 40-yard boot.

Both Hoelzel and Central's Paul Shimkonis, who toed five punts for a 42-yard average, were outstanding all morning long under the adverse conditions.

The Red Raiders' next possession netted little, as Welch was leveled for no gain when Central gambled on a fourth-and-inches play at the Andover 47 yard line.

Collins' aggregation began the first sustained march of the "swim meet" at the close of the first quarter.

Alexander lofted a 29-yard pass to Verrette, Gerry Stabile bulled 11 yards, and Lou Pizarro cracked five more to the Central nine.

At this point the Raiders' defensive line, bulwarked by Tom Gabriel, Jim Willey, Jim Delucua and Howlett, stiffened and forced a fourth-and-4 situation at the eight yard line.

AHS coughed up the ball a second time on a fumble, as Gabriel tracked down the rain-soaked pigskin to kill the threat.

More Frustration

Welch nearly broke a run all the way moments later, but he was accidentally knocked down by Howlett who was helping form the blocking wall.

Now it was time for the solid Andover defensive front to stabilize, as year-long standouts like Tom Henderson, Mike Bernard, Tom Kenney, John Drivas, Jim Deyermond, Tom Coffey and Bill Walsh bottled up Central at its own 26.

Shimkonis drilled a 40-yard punt to Farnham, who slithered back to the AHS 40, and once again the Golden Warriors began to operate in the downpour.

Aerials from Alexander to Verrette did all the damage, the first covering 17 yards and the second one for 33 yards and a first down at the Central 13.

Andover remained airborne for three incompletions, and with three minutes left in the half Bill Alexander lined up to attempt a 29-yard fieldgoal.

Regular placekicker Paul Deryck was watching the game from the side-lines, hobbling around on crutches after a gym accident put his right foot in a cast earlier last week.

Alex had been kicking extremely well in practice all week, and he laid into this boot and boomed it well past the goalposts. However, the soccer-style kick sailed off to the right.

Neither club advanced beyond midfield for the balance of the half.

Central Breaks Ice

Andover fumbled away the second-half kickoff for its third-and-final miscue, and Frank Pallaria recovered the bobbie at the Golden Warriors' 36.

It took Coach Gus Giardi's club 11 plays to slosh to paydirt, putting AHS on the short end of the score for the first time this season.

The Raiders kept plugging away with short yardage runs by Steve McCarthy, Rocky Riviezzo, Welch and Bacon... until the mini-march stalled with a fourth-and-10 at the Andover 25.

Signal-caller Paul Kelley then completed his only pass in six tries, hitting Kevin Gearin for 12 yards over the middle and a first down at the 13.

McCarthy bolted five yards in two carries, and Riviezzo followed Jim Nault's trap block for seven yards to the mud-smeared one yard line.

Bayard On Soc All-Sta

Kern Bayard, a son from Andover, is one of the Tufts University players who have been named to the Greater Boston Soccer all-star team for 1975.

Bayard, a 6'2" forward, has two goals to help the Junior Hawks lead the GBL playoffs with a 3-1 record in GBL play.

Despite a foot injury that hampered his late season performance, Kern scored eight goals and two assists to lead the Hawks in scoring this fall. The team finished with a 7-6-1 overall record, their ninth consecutive winning season.

Kern is the son of Mr. Keder Bayard of Johnson Phillips Academy, Andover.

Eastern Club Sho In Boston

Close to 2500 entries are expected for the 62nd Eastern Dog Club show on Dec. 13 in Boston Auditorium at the Faneuil Center.

The all-breeds, bench show will feature a specialty show of the Colonial Afghan Hound which is expected to draw more than 110 entries.

Breed winners at last year's show included Marilyn Ly, 844 Salem St., North Andover, a white Bull Terrier and a white Bull Terrier owned by O'Connor and S. G. Ipswich Rd., Boxford, Terrier.

Other scheduled features include Junior Show Competition for youngsters ten to 16 years of age, a demonstration by the Police Department's K-9 Corps.

The breed judging will begin at 9 a.m. and continue through the day. The 120 breeders will compete for their awards starting at 6 p.m. The six finalists will go into the ring for the selection of the in-show at 9:45 p.m.

Buddy Werner Ski Note

The first organizational meeting of the Andover Ski Club/BWL was held on Dec. 1, at the West Junior High School. Parents and racers were informed by the president, Price, that there would be races this year and a trophy will be chosen on a quarterly basis.

The head coach, Tom Farnham, gave a talk on proper ski equipment, the schedule for practice sessions beginning in January. The 74-75 season was reviewed and it was noted that Andover tied for first in the Boston Globe Trophy race last season.

Looking forward to the season to bring the trophy to Andover exclusively, there will be a dry run on Sunday, Dec. 7, at the West Junior High School. All racers are invited to attend this practice session and can begin going through the fundamentals of team racing.

Buddy Werner Ski Notes

The first organizational meeting of the Andover Ski Club/BWL was held Monday, Dec. 1, at the West Junior High School. Parents and racers were informed by the president, Peter Price, that there would be four races this year and semi-finals will be chosen on a quota system.

The head coach, Ted Sutton, gave a talk on purchasing the proper ski equipment and gave the schedule for practice session beginning in January. This past 74-75 season was rewarding in that Andover tied Bradford for the Boston Globe Trophy. We are looking forward to the 75-76 season to bring the trophy back to Andover exclusively.

There will be a dry-run practice on Sunday, Dec. 7 at 10 o'clock at the West Junior High School. All racers are urged to attend this practice so that they can begin going through the fundamentals of team racing.

Passing In The Rain

Kelley snuck over for the six points, but Shimkonis shanked the conversion kick off to the left to freeze the score at 6-0 with 5:10 gone in the third quarter.

The fired-up Central defense mauled Alexander on the final third period possession for the MVC champs.

Riviezzo nailed Alex for a six-yard loss, and after the AHS field general ran twice for 20 yards, he was smothered for a 14-yard setback by the left side of the Raiders' line.

The Champs Rally

Faced with Super Bowl elimination and merely a tie for the Conference crown, Andover's business-like attitude returned as Collins' men trekked 79 yards in 13 plays for the game-tying tally in the final quarter.

It went like this: Ken Lafleur scotted seven yards, Fabiani two, Stabile seven, Fabiani eight, Stabile one, Alex four, Stabile two, Stabile seven, Fabiani eight, Stabile one, Alex four, Stabile four, Lafleur eight and Stabile two as the ball advanced to the Central 36.

Giardi, who usually has Andover well-defended, saw his club stop Verrette on the end-around left for a one-yard loss.

This set the stage for some razzle-dazzle, and it became perhaps the biggest play of the season for Andover.

Verrette, although double-covered, took a pass from Alexander behind the line of scrimmage. A former freshman quarterback, Glenn pitched a left-handed strike to Farnham at the Red Raiders' eight yard line.

It was the second time AHS had used the "trick play", the first resulting in a 19-yard touchdown pass against Tewksbury.

"I really couldn't get all that much on the ball," admitted Verrette later. "But luckily it was right on target and Mark held on."

Andover's Glenn Verrette, usually sure-handed, found the going rough in the rain last Thursday morning on the rain drenched turf at Lawrence stadium. Here a pass eludes his clutches as two Central defenders move in.

Stabile lugged the leather two yards closer, and then Ken Lafleur skirted the right side and won his foot race to the right front corner of the endzone for his first TD of the season.

Alexander's try for the go-ahead point again tailed off wide to the right side, and with three minutes left it was knotted 6-6.

Wild Finish

The dramatics were far from over, as both clubs mounted late threats and the Warriors had a touchdown called back.

Immediately following the tying score Central was stymied, thanks primarily to Tom Coffey and Dan Welsh who sacked Pat Welch for a 10-yard loss on a third-down play.

Shimkonis unloaded a clutch 45-yard punt, which Verrette returned seven yards to the AHS 42 with 1:33 remaining.

Passes to Verrette and Farnham went incomplete, but then lightning struck as Alex hit Farnham at the Central 28 and Sparky cut from the middle of the field down the right sideline for an apparent 58-yard TD.

Andover partisans, having ringed the outside of the field long before, swarmed into the endzone and smothered Farnham as Central fans looked on in disbelief.

Then a huge cheer arose from the Raiders' bleachers, as the people glanced back upfield and saw a yellow penalty flag that must have appeared bigger than a breadbox to Andover rooters.

The Golden Warriors had been detected for offensive holding, negating the potential game-winning score and bringing the ball way back to the Andover 21.

Several fans accused the official of throwing the flag late, well after the pass was completed, but the criticism seems unjustified.

Alex overthrew Verrette on a desperation third down toss, and with 48 seconds to play Hoelzel punted out to the Warriors 42.

Now it was Kelley's turn to overload the rainy skies. Two passes to Welch fell incomplete, and on the second try Verrette jarred the intended receiver hard from the side to prevent the catch.

On the next play a costly roughing-the-passer penalty on AHS gave Central a first down at the Andover 25 with 33 seconds to go.

Riviezzo was flattened on a reverse, and with 19 seconds left Dave Mirisola blocked a pass headed for Welch in the endzone.

A third-down aerial to Gearin fell short, and Welch gained only six yards when he swept right end forcing the Red Raiders to surrender possession at the 19 with eight seconds to play.

Alexander scurried 16 yards as the game-ending whistle blew.

Notes

Deserving credit for a fine performance under terrible conditions is Andover center Dan Billings. He snapped the ball back for all punts and each play out of the shotgun formation, and not once was Billings off target. Things like that generally help win ballgames.

"It was a great clutch effort," confirmed Collins, "and I told Dan so right after the game."

Billings also joined linemates John Drivas, Scott Collins, Jim

Seero Sears Lehigh

Scott Seero

As if Andover hasn't enough to think about with its high school football team, a Golden Warrior graduate made headlines this past week at the University of New Hampshire.

Scott Seero, an All-Scholastic in 1973 at Andover High, now playing for UNH, pulled off a surprise pass to Mike Moroney to set up the go-ahead score to beat favored Lehigh, 35-21 and put his team in the NCAA semi-finals this coming Saturday.

Seero, used as a punter at UNH, went in on a special play with 7:23 left in the final quarter and the score tied at 21 all.

The play was designed by Coach Bill Bowes and used in practice throughout the season and had Seero back to punt, but throwing the successful pass to Moroney.

Moroney was downed on the Lehigh 27 from where regular Quarterback Jeff Allen moved the ball over for the score a few plays later.

The upset win by UNH places them in the semi-finals of the NCAA playoffs. They meet Western Kentucky in the Grantland Rice Bowl Saturday at 1 p.m. at Baton Rouge, La.

Italian Christmas

Gift giving in Italy is on the Twelfth Night, or Epiphany, and the giver is an old lady named Befana. Legend says that the three kings stopped to ask Befana the way to the newborn king, but she did not know. She later took her own gift -- after she had finished her sweeping.

Today she slips down the chimneys to fill the pockets of sleeping Italian children. To some she looks like a witch because she is very old, and she still carries the broom she had the day the Wise Men passed by.

Ancients considered holly sacred because it stayed green the year 'round. They also believed it would heal the sick, repel evil spirits and protect homes from lightning. Some believed holly shouldn't be thrown away, but burned before New Year's.

Honolulu, where the average wind speed is 12.1 miles per hour, is the first U.S. city to spend tax dollars on wind research. A windmill that might operate for 50 years could be built there for $50,000 and could produce as much energy per year as $7,000 worth of oil or coal, Massachusetts Audubon tells us.

Deyermund and Tom Henderson in opening the holes for AHS runners.

Additional defensive standouts not mentioned already were Gerry Stabile, Ken Lafleur, sophomore Greg Gardner and Deyermund.

Verrette finished his three-year career at Andover with 103 pass receptions during regular-season play, as school record that should stand for many years. Glenn was the leading receiver in Division II of Eastern Mass. with eight touchdown catches, and his 58 total points placed him 10th in the divisional scoring chase won by Saugus' John Nicolo with 101 markers.

Harvard University has a representative coming to talk to Verrette some time this week.

Tom Henderson may be eyeing Plymouth State for his college, and several other former AHS standout athletes are there now.

The Golden Warriors finished with a gigantic 239-50 scoring edge on their 10 opponents, posting three shutouts, holding Dracut to just two points and limiting five other rivals to a single touchdown. Only Chelmsford (27-16) hit double figures against Andover.

Statistics

Andover won the statistical battle against Central, leading in first downs (11-6), yards passing (108-12) and total yardage (194-106). The Raiders managed slight edges in yards rushing (94-86) and scrimmage plays (53-53).

Alexander hit on 3-of-12 passes, all to Verrette covering 79 total yards, while Glenn was 1-for-1 to Farnham.

In the rushing department, Stabile sparked AHS with 45 yards in eight lugs. Fabiani gained 21 in four carries, Lafleur 21 in three totes and Pizarro seven yards in four tries.

Alexander ran forward 46 yards in five carries, but was nailed behind the line of scrimmage on seven other occasions for losses of 53 yards.

Pat Welch emerged as game-high ground gainer with 50 yards in 19 carries. Riviezzo was 8-for-22, McCarthy 6-for-15 and Bacon 5-for-14.

Andover now holds a 2-0-1 advantage over Central in their infant Thanksgiving rivalry.

Central, however, also made it tough the first two times by falling 21-14 and 14-7.

Camping Flag For Troop 70

Friday the Grand Camping flag was awarded to Boy Scout Troop 70. The flag was given to troop 70 by John Beanlen.

The Grand Camping flag is given to the troop that has the largest total camping days, and percentage of boys in the troop on the campouts.

Troop 70 won with 54 camping days closely followed by two other troops in Andover. Troop 70 is led by Harold Tynning, assisted by Mr. Walter Adler and Mark Johnson.

Holiday Programs Planned

Several special programs have been planned for the approaching holiday season by the Andover-North Andover YMCA. Some are limited to certain categories of membership while others are open to the general public. Details are available at the new YMCA building, 165 Haverhill St., Andover and registration forms are also available if required.

Programs open to the general public include: Girls' Basketball Tournaments and a Christmas Party. Entry blanks for the Basketball Tournaments are presently available with entries due by Dec. 23. Any group of girl residents of Andover and North Andover may enter as a team for the single elimination competition to take place on Dec. 30 and Jan. 2, at the new YMCA gym. Individual awards will be presented to members of the winning team in each of the following two age divisions: Girls in grades 4-6 with a maximum age of 12 on Jan. 1 and girls in grades 7-9 with a maximum age of 15 on Jan. 1. Questions may be addressed to Physical Director Janet Mead.

The Third Annual Christmas Party is open to any boy or girl in grades 1-6, including non-members of the YMCA. Sponsored annually by the Junior Leaders' Club, tickets are available from YMCA Junior Leaders or at the new YMCA building with proceeds to be used for leaders' training school expenses. The party will be scheduled at the new building from 1-4 p.m. on Wednesday, Dec. 24, affording parents the opportunity to dispose of the young people for a few hours on the day before Christmas. The fun program will include movies, goodies and games, Santa Claus and a swim in the new YMCA pool.

The usual YMCA Vacation Club program will take place on five days including Dec. 26, 29, 30, 31 and Jan. 2, 9 a.m.-3:30 p.m. each day. Open to Full Privilege and Basic Members at special fee and with prior registration required, the program will be of the day camp variety featuring skating, bowling, gym activities, movies, fun swims, crafts and special events.

Any category of member or the general public is eligible for the Ski Trip planned for Jan. 2. Intended to serve youth in grades 7-12 the group will travel with YMCA Walter J. Kimball, Sr. and Suzanne Price to the King's Ridge Ski Area in Southern New Hampshire, traveling by bus. Parents and younger children will be accommodated for the

Northeastern Dean's List

Northeastern University has announced that the following area residents have achieved recognition on the Dean's List for the summer quarter. To be so honored a student must maintain a 3.0 or B average in a full course load of 11 credits or more.

John A. Sangermano, 275 River Road, Andover, college of engineering.

William M. Isbell, Phillips Academy, college of liberal arts.

Dana B. Carmichael, 59 Whit-tier St., Arthur N. Gaudet, 5 Wethersfield Drive, Steven C. Wilbur, 62 Brookfield Road, Andover and Arthur N. Gaudet, 40 Trinity Court, North Andover, college of business administration.

Betsy Holmes, 163 Turnpike St., Nancy L. Marshall, 677 Salem St., North Andover and Jo-Anne Walker, 23 Strawberry Hill Road, Andover, Boston Bouve college.

Mary E. King, 71 Harold Parker Road, Andover, college of nursing.

Jan. 2 event after Dec. 22. Reservations are being accepted on a first come basis at the new YMCA building.

Several events are limited to Full Privilege Members with prior registration required in all instances. On Dec. 9 a Teen Wreck Nite for grades 7-12 is scheduled. The program includes a bus trip to ice skating, plus a fun swim, 3:15-6:15 p.m. On Dec. 27 the Annual YMCA Christmas Jubilee will be conducted. The Saturday event at the new YMCA building will continue from 8:15 a.m. - 3 p.m. and will include competition in gym activities, aquatics, and lobby games with awards to place winners in all events. Competition will be in three age divisions, including boys and girls in grades 1 and 2, 3 and 4, 5 and 6.

The Fall Term YMCA Novice Swim Meet for Full Privilege Members will encourage participation by all swimmers regardless of ability. The entry blanks list events open to contestants in 10 age-sex categories, ranging from 8 and under up through 17 years. Meets for the various age groups are scheduled at various times in the period Dec. 16-18, with all events contested in the new YMCA pool. Ribbon awards will be presented to five place winners in each event, with "Outstanding Swimmers" in each category receiving trophies.

The next Family Night program will take place on Dec. 30 during the holiday vacation period and is open only to individuals who are affiliated through a Family YMCA

Membership. YMCA Junior Leaders will lead in a game program and, in addition to the pot luck supper, the usual recreational gym activities and family swim will take place.

This Saturday, Dec. 6, the Andover High School Golden Warriors will make their third trip to Boston University's Nickerson Field, to defend their title as Massachusetts Division II State Football Champs. The kickoff between the "Blue and Gold" and the Plymouth-Carver team is scheduled for 10:15 a.m.

Saturday's game will be especially exciting, since both teams will enter the competition with identical 9-0-1 records; and whereupon Andover will be placing its 36 game unbeaten streak on the line. In addition, this year marks the fourth consecutive season that Andover has been the Merrimack Valley Conference champions.

During the past season, many people have shared in the spirit and excitement that the Golden Warriors have brought to Andover High School. I believe that it is time they too were recognized! As a supplement to Tradition once dictated that ornaments were never hung on the tree before Christmas Eve. Usually very fragile and delicate, they were cherished heirlooms that were to be passed on to each generation.

AHS's terrific marching band, under the direction of Mr. Al Graceffa, are the dancing "Warriors." These eleven costumed girls dance lively to the music which the band provides as entertainment for each game.

Another important group to remember are the ever faithful spectators. You are the special people who follow our games so closely, regardless of how many obstacles "Mother Nature" puts in the way! An example of this took place a week ago at Lawrence Stadium against Central Catholic. Although the weather saturated the playing field, it never seemed to dampen the ever-present spirit and contagious enthusiasm which all the fans generated, in support of the Warriors. This was an extra thing to be thankful for on a cold and soggy Thanksgiving Day!

Although the last to be mentioned, how could one forget the AHS cheerleaders? (Since I am a member of the squad, please forgive me if this article appears somewhat biased). To put it mildly, the cheerleaders have been thought of as everything from "unsung heroes" to "slaves"! They have planned various activities whose purposes are to generate school enthusiasm, and to give additional support to the team. These include a Thanksgiving luncheon, and a pep rally to be sponsored for AHS in the gym at 1:30 p.m. In conjunction with this rally, afternoon classes will be cancelled.

In addition to the above, each Friday afternoon the cheerleaders decorate the team locker room, and as a treat, they bake homemade snacks to give the team a further "boost." (I've often wondered if the boys would suffer from hunger pains if they did not receive their "goodies" each week.)

Although Super Bowl V may mark the conclusion of football action for many seniors, the memories which it holds for us will last a lifetime.

When I look back on it, I know I will say that it was all worthwhile!

Art Auction At Franklin PTO Session

The Franklin School, PTO, North Andover, has an interesting and diverse calendar for December, beginning with an auction of original works of art on Friday, Dec. 5.

George Rogers will be the auctioneer and a preview of the items will be from 7:30 to 8:30. The auction, open to the public, will begin at 8:30 p.m. Prices of the art works range from $5 to $100. An added feature to the evening will be door prizes, coffee and light refreshments.

On Tuesday, Dec. 9, the PTO will sponsor its annual Holiday program. Preceding this will be a business meeting, beginning at 7 p.m. The PTO will also present audio-visual equipment to the school.

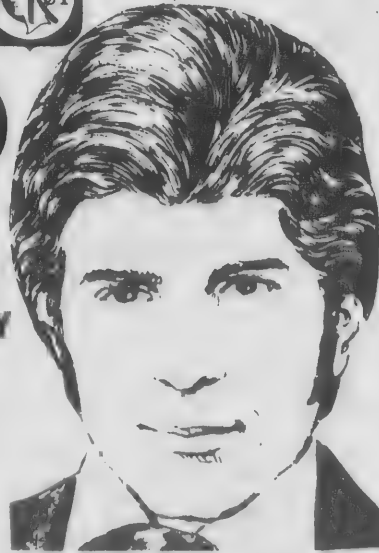

The "Holiday Program" will feature the Franklin school band and chorus in concert. This will be followed by coffee and refreshments.

The Book Mobile will make a special visit for this event.

Ski Program Planned In Bradford

The Recreation - Community Schools Department in conjunction with the Bradford Ski Area is offering a ski program for third through ninth grade students of all skiing levels from the beginner through the racer.

The program offers one hour of ski instruction and one hour of practice skiing one afternoon a week for four weeks beginning the week of Jan. 19, 1975.

Schedule:

Monday, Sanborn School and South School.

Tuesday, Doherty School and East Junior High.

Wednesday, Shawsheen School and Bancroft School.

Thursday, West Elementary School and West Junior High.

Friday, St. Augustine's and Pike School.

Buses leave each school at 2:45 p.m. and return at 6 p.m.

School coordinators for the program are needed. Two parents or teachers from each school are needed to help with the program as bus monitors. Free skiing and lessons will be made available to them. Contact the Recreation - Community School Department if you are interested in helping.

Registration forms are available in each school office and at the Recreation - Community School office.

Deadline for registration is Dec. 19. Only the first 50 applications from each school will be accepted.

St. Lucia

In Sweden, the feast of St. Lucia on December 13, ushers in the Christmas season.

Each community chooses a Lucia Queen to represent the young girl martyred for her religion centuries before in ancient Rome. In families with daughters, the prettiest plays the role of Lucia. Her "privilege" is to wait on everyone else for the day.

Election Of Officers

The AYBL will conduct a general membership meeting for the purpose of electing officers next Thursday, Dec. 11. Nominations will be accepted from the floor for any officer's position or for the Board of Directors. All interested adults are invited to attend this important meeting.

Breaks Swim Record

The Andover High School Girls Varsity Swim Team, led by a record breaking performance by co-captain Colleen Dowd finished 9th in a field of 42 teams at the State Championships held in Springfield.

Colleen broke the previous records in the 50 and 100 yard freestyle only to have them eclipsed later in the finals as new records were set in all but one event.

The Andover Freestyle Relay Team of Bobbi and Ann Wright, Carol Belbin and Colleen Dowd finished fifth in their event with Colleen also placing third in the 50.

Warriors Impress Urban

"We haven't run up against a team like Andover, with a wide open offense and a strong defense," Paul Urban, head coach of Plymouth-Carver told the TOWNSMAN Tuesday night at a Super Bowl briefing in Framingham.

Urban who will be bringing his team into Super Bowl V Saturday morning against the Golden Warriors said he and his team were "very impressed" by what they had seen in the game films provided.

Andover supplied films of its games with Chelmsford and Dracut for bowl game preparations.

"There is quite a challenge there for us certainly, based on what we've seen," Urban said.

His team which amassed a 9-0-1 record this season, stresses ball control and plans are to go with the same type of game plan on Saturday morning.

"It's been successful in our league," Urban noted. There are so many question marks about this game, that we'll continue to stress what we know and do best.

"We scout teams in our league and have a book, but there really is no way to properly evaluate your opponent based solely on films.

"The kids are really up for the game on Saturday and I'm just trying to keep the edge off until the kickoff. This is our first trip to the bowl and I imagine the kids will be busting out of the bus by the time they get to Boston Saturday morning. But we'll try to save the edge for the game itself."

Urban feels the two teams should provide an excellent contest.

Saint Lucia

Swedish Christmas begins on December 13, Saint Lucia's Day, with a special custom which began with the first Christian Vikings. Very early in the morning, the oldest daughter rises and dresses entirely in white. On her head is a wreath of evergreen, winged with lighted candles, making a halo over her. She goes to each bedroom of the house with coffee and cakes, while the younger children follow along, singing.

Are Fun And Games For Kids Or Adults

The mountainous molehill of allocating basketball courts for youthful Cowens, Havlichek's, etc., in Andover, has been returned to the recreation department for disposition by the selectmen.

Officials of the Andover Youth Basketball League, formed this fall, appeared before the selectmen a week ago asking that they reverse decisions made by the town's recreation director in scheduling floor time for their league. The director's position was supported by the town manager.

Before anyone gets the wrong idea, we emphatically state that we're all for providing such activity for the youths of the community and the town should be grateful for league officials for sacrificing time and energy to supervise the hundreds of youngsters involved.

But the requests, bordering on demands, of the Andover Youth Basketball League officials, seem a little difficult to cope with.

The league was formed in the fall of this year, well beyond time for proper scheduling by the recreation - community schools department.

In prior years, the Church basketball league, which has been in operation for decades here in Andover, had been given court time for its activity.

The AYBL subsequently decided upon a more equitable distribution of the town's basketball players and formed their own league.

Now, possibly after forming schedules without having the courts firmed up, they face a dilemma.

It is not an insurmountable obstacle to the success of the league, we feel.

There are sufficient courts available in Andover to ac-comodate all the teams within the league.

To be sure, not all are of the Boston Garden variety, but these aren't the Celtics competing, they are youngsters being provided with a good, wholesome recreational activity.

Time was when church halls, small auditoriums, grammar school rooms, were provided as basketball courts, and, while not of regulation size, the youngsters had a good time, and many a player came from those primitive, makeshift basketball courts to perform more than adequately for Andover high school teams.

There is even further possibility that some of the larger basketball courts may open up in the second half of the winter term for the AYBL, thus only a few games will be played in the smaller school gymnasiums.

We feel that, as happens in many such organizations, devoted as they are to the cause of assisting the youth of the community, the real satisfaction often gets overlooked.

As zealous as the league officials may be in their aim to provide the best for the youngsters involved, the real success comes in providing the recreational opportunity for the youth.

Too often the emphasis becomes adult satisfaction of winning titles, while the real goal of just having fun goes by the boards.

We're sure that if you give ten kids a basketball on any court, regardless of size, they'll have a good time, and that, really, is what any youth league should be all about.

Let them have their fun and games now. In a few short years they will be faced with the pressures of winning through the balance of life.

Our Champs

Saturday morning in Boston, the Andover High football team will be back in a familiar spot, playing in the Division II Super Bowl game for the third time in the five year history of the classic.

As they venture forth in defense of the state title captured in exciting fashion a year ago, we wish them every success, but we would be remiss if concentrating on the Saturday effort alone.

To gain entry into the Super Bowl required a superlative season on the part of the young men who went through countless hours of practice every afternoon and competition each Saturday beginning in late September.

This team had super bowl in mind when they reported for practice in September. It really was in the minds of the players at the awards banquet honoring the state champs last December.

But to transfer thoughts and ideas into accomplishment is yet another thing.

The team had talent and desire, but coupled with these two attributes was the key ingredient, direction - provided by Head Coach Dick Collins.

Collins, to our mind, is the epitome of what high school athletic coaches should be.

There is an almost indescribable quality about the man that commands respect, not only from athletes under his direction but in the classroom and in every day life.

We have stated previously and repeat, that Collins has built into his athletes a rare quality of gentlemen sportsmen.

As evidence, we note the Thanksgiving Day game, a crucial encounter with Central Catholic in the rain at Lawrence stadium.

Collins was less than pleased to have to play under such conditions but beefed little.

A touchdown in the late going was called back. It would have given the Warriors the lead and possibly the win. Collins refused to enhance fan complaints that the official had dropped the penalty flag late, simply stating the official was competent.

These are just some examples of the leadership of a man who has seen lean years and championship seasons during his 17 years at the helm of Andover's football program.

The qualities of the man rub off on those he works with either on the field or in the classroom, or in everyday life.

The quality defies description but it is indisputedly there.

It is this, we feel, that has brought success to Andover high football along with some fine talent developed through the system.

Saturday morning it goes on display again in yet another attempt to bring back state honors to Andover.

Regardless of Saturday's outcome, however, we look upon Dick Collins and his team as OUR CHAMPS, and we are mighty proud of them.

'No School Like A Decent Home'

By Frederick Fitzgerald

This is the last in this series of commentaries which the TOWNSMAN managing editor, Bob Finneran, has kindly printed. His only reason for opening his columns was to be of public service and my thanks go to him. I have not covered as many things as I hoped at the outset, leaving many things untouched such as high interest matters as fiscal autonomy, collective bargaining, teacher residency and teacher compensation, to mention but a few. However, Bob advises, and wisely, I think, not to strain his patience nor that of his readers. And so this termination.

Tom Tiede says in his column, "The Bottom Line" (Eagle-Tribune), "The United States has spent more than a trillion dollars on formal education in the past century including $108 billion in the fiscal year just completed, and what is the result? Among the highest standards of living in the world, certainly. Also some of the most astonishingly deviated students: Many of the most demonstrably incapable teachers (his words, not mine), and a good number of the most glaringly uneducated adults compared to any other advanced nation on the globe." And he continues, "One million pupils quit before high school graduation; crime, alcohol, and drugs are a major preoccupation on the secondary level; college entrance scores are dropping like stones in a well." I neither quarrel with nor support his conclusions. I just want to dispose of the whole subject in order that we avoid skirmishing on that well scarred battleground, and also to focus on the abundance of evidence available for anyone to draw conclusions on the state of public and private education in the United States - whatever those conclusions may be. I want to look at something more ominous. While the "traditionalists" and the "progressives" are ready to mount the barricades at the drop of a test score there are more melancholy symptoms of a gap in American education.

We have had some nasty shocks in the past ten years, and the indications are that there are more to come. We have had a president driven from office in disgrace largely because he persisted in lying to the point of absurdity. Not only did he persist in lying but he was able to persuade himself that his lying was in the national interest. He was a product of the American system of public and private education but in some subtle way we do not fully understand his educational experience left him largely untouched. With him, down the "disposal" went some of the "best and brightest" of our young, middle aged, and older citizens - products of the best law, engineering, and general education schools the nation has. They did not have a lack of opportunity nor financial resources, and yet in a very real sense their educational experience was pointless. It gives us cold comfort to say that the other side was just as wicked, for that means only that things are twice as bad as they appear.

In another area the Louisiana grain scandals are as shattering to the national conscience - or should be - as Watergate. To review; a substantial portion of the grain - possibly 70-80% - moving to foreign ports leaves New Orleans. Because it is food, both grain and ships are subject to stringent inspection, sometimes by government inspectors, sometimes by inspectors working for private firms under contract to the government. Because of persistent complaints from receivers in foreign countries about musty grain, substandard grain, short weight, and dirty ships the government investigated. It unearthed a wormy mess of bribes, threats, pay offs, and collusion and conspiracy between inspectors, skippers, owners, and contracting firms. In short all the evils that proliferate when men's greed and lust for power are unshackled. There were discharges, indictments, resignations, but in the words of one young man who was axed for accepting bribes, "It was a hell of a good job - I made a bundle while it lasted. I'd sure like to be back inspecting." He was not alone. The New York Times says "An expanding investigation, reaching from America's farms to the foreign markets where the harvests are sold, has found that corruption in the grain industry has already hurt the interests of growers and threatens damage to the economy. Many of the overseas buyers who are responsible for this country's $12 billion a year revenues from the grain trade are seeking other sources, after complaining for years that they were not getting their money's worth. In the important soy bean trade they are giving more and more of their trade to Brazil." What is the point of an educational system that can turn out this kind of product? If you say we should look at the large number of excellent people it turns out I can only say that we don't have to worry about good health - It's sickness that kills us.

Meanwhile, the Maryland story, spearheaded by Spiro Agnew's disgrace continues to unfold. It would be prejudicial to brood over Governor Mandel's indictment, but other convictions for betrayal of public trust are matters of record - a congressman, a speaker of the Maryland House of Delegates, a United States senator, a county commissioner. It might not be unrealistic to assume that Maryland is not unique, and that a "dig" in other states could unearth the same sad deviations. These characters are not the downtrodden among us who might complain, with some justice, that the "system" is to blame. Many are the "best and brightest" products of our educational system. It is

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago - December, 1900

The selectmen this week completed the perambulating of the bounds with selectmen from adjoining communities. A total of 76 bounds were marked, the officials finding such locations, as "the buckthorn" in river channel, and "Rum Rock" among the many designated markers.

The Republican Town committee reported spending $490 during the last political campaign which proved a successful cost for the group in this town.

Several of the buildings on the Hussey Estate in Frye Village, have now been torn down or repaired. The tenement opposite Mrs. Morgan's store will be repaired and made into a tenement and store for Mr. and Mrs. Morgan.

The terrific wind, rain and snow storm of Tuesday night caused terrific damage locally, blowing in several windows in the downtown area.

J.H. Playdon, the Frye Village florist has a fine showing of mushrooms at his greenhouse. Recent alterations and improvements have given him an additional room in his pink house. His violets will be in prime condition for Christmas.

50 Years Ago - December, 1925
Frank H. Hardy, chairman of the Andover Board of Selectmen and Assessors, was elected president of the newly organized Essex County Assessors Association in Salem this week.

Police Officer Robert Black was fatally wounded while on duty in Elm Square. It is believed he was the victim of a gang travelling from Lawrence following a holdup there.

Children's reading room assembly room, enlarged reading and stock rooms, included in plans for expansion on the north side of Memorial Hall library. Architect's drawings are due before the trustees within the week.

About 65 persons were present for the final cooking lecture given by the Gold Medal flour people at the Legion hall Wednesday afternoon. The demonstrator showed how to make yeast breads, tea ring, coffee cake and raised doughnuts.

The school committee this week agreed to a plan to allow Normal school teachers to practice teach in the local schools. The plan allows the pupil teachers an opportunity to show their ability and also help the regular classroom teacher.

25 Years Ago - December, 1950
Ray Kennedy of Lawrence, nationally known football official, will be the speaker for the annual Booster Club banquet honoring the football squad.

The school committee will consider the readjustment of teacher salaries, following the action of the recent town meeting in refusing to grant all full time employees a $10 increase.

Moderator Arthur Sweeney appoints Emile J. C. Shulze, Charles W. Arnold and William S. Titcomb as a special committee to study the salary structure of town employees and report to the annual town meeting.

School committee awards bus contract, bringing to four the number of school buses now transporting children to Andover schools.

Donald J. Mulvey, 87 Chestnut St., a member of the freshman swimming team at Harvard University, has been named to receive the All-American Helms award.

10 Years Ago - December, 1965
A tentative school department salary budget of $2 million has been presented to the school pointless to say people are no worse than they ever were - That's just another way of saying they are no better than they ever were. One would think we would treasure brighter visions.

If the rich are getting richer and the poor are getting poorer - a statistically sound observation - then the learned appear to be getting more learned and the unlearned appear to be sinking deeper in the swamp of ignorance. There is a growing gap between the 5% plus who create and control the contemporary technology on which our system hangs, and the 10% plus of our citizens who are doomed to a life of corroding and debilitating idleness. The gap between the mind of an Einstein and a high school dropout has always been wide but the gap is increasing. With the proliferation of new and sophisticated technologies, and the decline of labor intensive industries, we are now asked to contemplate, and we are indeed contemplating the write-off of a very substantial number of our fellow citizens because they are unemployable. They are unemployable because they have not been fitted with the skills necessary for a productive role in the system - or, to be blunt, something went wrong with their education. We save our consciences by saying "Well, we tried but they failed." I know it hurts but try it the other way - "They tried but we failed." Of these people I doubt that any would choose to be a failure, given a real option.

We are asked to swallow the notion that "we are going to have a large body of unemployed (8,000,000?) with us for some length of time". We are also telling them, the unemployed and welfare clients, that we can no longer afford (and it's the truth) to care for them and that they will have to do the best they can.

How can sizable numbers of our people pass through our educational system and be completely insulated from it? We treat symptoms. We say "Take an aspirin and come back next year" then go about our business. But the system rolls on staffing the grain industry, the Maryland political establishment, the C.I.A. and sundry other sinister government agencies while producing enough corruption to satisfy the basest social system. We don't attack the disease because we don't know what's making us sick.

Tom Tiede, whom we quoted at the beginning of this article closes his column with a quotation from Mohandas K. Gandhi: "There is no school equal to a decent home; and no teacher equal to a virtuous parent." It is probably not the total answer, but it may be a hat we parents should try on for size.

Nixon Helped Iran Against Iraq

by Jack Anderson
with Joe Spear

WASHINGTON — The astonishing story is beginning to leak out of how the United States sacrificed thousands of lives to help the Shah of Iran negotiate a favorable deal with neighboring Iraq.

The Shah was involved in border and navigation disputes with Iraq. He wanted to bring pressure upon the Iraqis by stirring up trouble inside their country.

So the Shah urged the CIA to arm the fierce Kurdish tribes and encourage them to harass the Iraqi army. On four occasions, the CIA rejected the proposal. Three times, the State Department also advised against it.

But in May, 1972, then-President Richard Nixon and his foreign policy advisor, Henry Kissinger, visited Iran. They held a secret meeting with the Shah — just the three of them alone, behind closed doors.

They struck a deal to support a Kurdish revolt in Iraq. Nixon ignored the objections of the CIA and State Department. At one point, former Treasury Secretary John Connally was dispatched to Iran to tell the Shah personally that the arrangements were ready.

Millions of dollars worth of untraceable Chinese and Soviet arms were shipped through Iran to the Kurds. Suddenly, the fierce tribesmen swarmed out of their mountain hideouts and attacked Iraqi outposts. There were heavy casualties on both sides as the revolt continued.

The Shah, meanwhile, reopened his negotiations with the Iraqis. He offered to end his support of the Kurds if the Iraqis would sign a favorable border settlement. On March 6, 1975, the Shah announced a formal agreement with Iraq.

Immediately, the Shah cut off his support of the Kurdish revolt. The CIA, with Kissinger's blessing, also abandoned the Kurds.

Within a few days, the Kurds were overwhelmed by Iraqi troops. Thousands were slaughtered. An estimated 80,000 Kurdish refugees fled for their lives.

The Kurd's 72-year-old leader, Mustafa Barzani, visited the United States to find out why his people had been abandoned. He was secreted away in a CIA "safe house" in Virginia and kept totally isolated.

He begged to see Henry Kissinger, but was refused. To top it off, say our sources, Barzani was given a medical checkup while he was in the U.S. and learned that he is afflicted with cancer.

Throughout all their scheming and plotting with the Shah, the Kurds were wary of a doublecross. But United States participation in the affair, they thought, offered them a guarantee.

They were mistaken, it turns out. The Shah got his deal. Kissinger is still pampering the Shah. And the Kurdish people paid with their blood.

Footnote: Henry Kissinger's betrayal of the Kurds, say our sources, was related directly to his Middle East diplomacy. He felt the Iraqis should be freed of their Kurdish problems so they could resume a simmering battle with Syria. This, he felt, would draw Syrian attention away from the pact he was trying to negotiate between the Egyptians and the Israelis.

Battle of the Brass: The various military services have been fighting among each other since the days of the First Continental Army. The Navy is always afraid the Marines are stealing their job; the Air Force doesn't want the Army flying anything but helicopters.

Now there's a new inter-service brouhaha shaping up at the Pentagon. The Navy desperately wants to begin building a fleet of "supercarriers" which will probably cost over a billion dollars apiece. The Admirals would like to get started on their supercarriers with next year's budget.

A number of well-placed Air Force generals, however, have begun talking publicly of their service's ability to take over many Navy missions. Their long-range planes and newly developed air-refueling capabilities, the generals have asserted, eliminate the need for a fleet of supercarriers.

Generally, Defense Department leaders have taken the Air Force view. Former Defense Secretary James Schlesinger, for example, believed the Navy should spend its money on small carriers and not the supercarriers. He directed the Navy brass to prepare a mammoth study on the controversy.

The Admirals, in short, will soon be scrambling for their stripes. The battle promises to be a real bruiser.

Necessary Precaution?: The Secret Service has quietly started running police checks and compiling data banks on volunteer workers for the current presidential candidates.

Campaign spokesmen for Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., and Rep. Mo Udall, D-Ariz., told us they considered the checks a necessary precaution.

Each volunteer is asked to fill out an information form which requests name, birthdate and Social Security number. It is noted on the form that the Social Security number is given optionally and at the request of the Secret Service.

However, the volunteers are not told how closely they will be checked. The files will be destroyed after the campaign.

Embarrassed Gunmen: During a recent routine check, Treasury agents discovered an unlicensed rifle at the headquarters of the National Rifle Association.

A spokesman for the Treasury said the infraction was a violation of the Federal Firearms Act. The rifle is currently being traced.

An embarrassed NRA spokesman told us the rifle was deactivated after the violation was discovered. He added that it had been removed from the display area.

Bourgeois Tastes: Russian diplomats in Washington apparently find it difficult to practice the communist life style they preach. Our survey of Soviet diplomatic cars reveals the Russians prefer the General Motors line, from Cadillacs to Vegas. Chrysler products are second most popular, and Ford vehicles rank third. A very few Soviet diplomats own small foreign cars, and as best we could determine, not a single one of them drives a Soviet-made automobile.

As part of their Christmas traditions, the early Dutch settlers of New York told the story of St. Nicholas or Sinterklaas, a 4th century bishop who was known as a secret bestower of gifts to deserving people. It was this figure who inspired C. M. Moore to write his poem, "A Visit from St. Nicholas."

What Our Readers Say

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

I want to express to you my appreciation for the article you published in this week's TOWNSMAN (Nov. 26) about my great great grandfather Abraham Marland, who was the founder of the original Christ Episcopal church in Andover. I enjoyed reading it.

I am the only living descendant of Abraham Marland now residing in Andover who is a member of Christ church.

I have not been able to take an active part in church work for several years because of my health, but I feel honored to be a descendant of the man who gave the Episcopal church to Andover.

Charlotte A. Marland
106 Main Street

To the Editor of The TOWNSMAN

The Andover Artists Guild wishes to express its appreciation for the cooperation and support extended by the Andover Merchants with regard to the Art in the Park show. The prize monies donated certainly were well-received and elevated the format of the exhibition.

The Fall Festival week which preceded Art in the Park and had merchants and artists cooperating to help promote the exhibit was certainly beneficial.

Mexican Posada

The colorful Mexican posada, or pilgrimage, dramatizes the search which led Mary and Joseph to the stable.

For each of the nine nights before Christmas, a couple dressed as Mary and Joseph goes from house to house. Only at the last house are they -- and the parade of neighbors which is now following them -- invited in for supper.

As you know, this First Annual "Art In The Park" proved to be immensely successful both in artists response and in spectator reaction. It is expected that future exhibits will have an even greater impact with broad benefits in artistic education and prestige to the community.

Through the joint efforts of the Andover Merchants, the Recreation Community Schools Department and the Andover Artists Guild we now have been able to establish a scholarship fund for potential art minded students from our community. A committee is now being formed to develop the criteria for the recipient. Our total efforts produced approximately $500 toward this fund from "Art In The Park" '75.

Thank you once again for your participation.

Polly Lee, Sec.
Andover Artists Guild

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

Do you love to sing? Every Wednesday afternoon at 3 p.m. a group of Andover citizens meets at The Haven under the direction of J. Everett Collins to do just that - SING. You don't have to have a super voice. All you need is a love of singing. You will be most welcome. You're also welcome to stop by and listen if you'd prefer, but don't stay home. Come to The Haven... Wednesday afternoons at 3 o'clock!

Friday, Dec. 5 is the deadline for December Fling reservations. All money should be in by that afternoon.

There are still one or two reservations available for Sunday's trip to Chateau de Ville, dinner and theater. Call The Haven if you're interested. (475-3968 or 475-4165)

For those who have not learned about The Haven, it is Andover's senior citizen drop-in and referral center and is located at 25 Barnard St. across from the Town Hall parking lot. It is open every day until 4 o'clock except Saturdays and Sundays. Anyone 60 years of age or older is invited to use its facilities. If you have problems, there are people there who are equipped to help you solve them. If you're looking for some new friends or an opportunity to renew old acquaintances, The Haven is the place to do it. If there are some special skills or crafts you'd like to help others to learn, they need you. If there are some special crafts or skills you'd like to learn the Director will try to find someone to teach you and any others who might like to learn. The Haven is a friendly place, a warm, comfortable place. Why not stop by next time you're downtown?

Granary

Burying Ground

Before the Park Street Church was built in Boston, the site was occupied by the town granary, which gave its name to the cemetery. Here are the graves of three signers of the Declaration of Independence: John Hancock, Robert Treat Paine and Samuel Adams; as well as Peter Faneuil, Paul Revere, James Otis, Benjamin Franklin's parents, and the victims of the Boston Massacre. Featured Entertainers

Jane Durkee, lyric-dramatic-soprano and Celia Dickie, pianist and organist, were the featured entertainers at the Christmas meeting of the November Club held Monday at Clubhouse on Locke Street.

To Present 'Nutcracker'

The Merrimack River Delta Festival Ballet with The Dancing Ambassadors of Friendship will present "The Nutcracker" on Dec. 12 at 7:30 in Denworth Hall, Bradford College.

The Ballet Company is part of the Merrimack Valley Academy of Dance in Andover. Proceeds from the performance will go towards the Dancing Ambassadors' 1976 tours to Poland and Romania.

Tickets will be on sale at the door. Advance tickets, however, may be purchased at Thompsons in Andover, at the North Andover Gallery of Art and at Tune Town in Lawrence. Student group rates and special rates for senior citizens and children are available.

Reservations may also be made by calling the Academy, located at 14 Park St., Andover.

Christmas Cards Meeting Topic

The Art Department of the November Club will meet Monday, Dec. 8, at 1:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Henry M. O'Bryan, 66 Porter Road, Andover.

Mrs. Robert Hatton will demonstrate the "Technique of Making Christmas Cards." Mrs. Hatton, who is a graduate of the Mass. College of Art and an artist in watercolor paintings, is a past president of the Andover Artists Guild.

CDA to Meet

Court St. Monica, Catholic Daughters of America, will hold a business meeting tonight at 7:30 p.m. in St. Augustine's School Hall. Due to the death of Miss Anna M. Greeley, the Christmas party scheduled to follow the meeting has been postponed.

Community Sing-A-Long Planned In North Andover

The North Andover Board of Trade and the North Andover Bicentennial Commission are planning an old-fashioned community sing-a-long, Sunday, Dec. 21, from 7-8 p.m., in front of the town office building.

Joining these groups will be the two fine North Andover school bands, the High School Band under the direction of Douglas W. Rogers and the North Andover Middle School Band under the direction of Miss Mary Healey, along with the North Andover High School Glee Club.

Norm Nathan, well-known radio broadcaster and commentator, will offer remarks for the occasion along with Chairman of Selectmen, John F. Coady; Board of Trade President, David Trombly; and Bicentennial Commission Chairman, Peter Rossiter.

Ten years ago a similar event was held in front of the town office building. In spite of inclement weather, a large gathering was present. It is hoped that a large group will attend in 1975.

All townspeople and friends are invited to join in this celebration.

Further information can be obtained from Joan Thompson or John Lyons, chairpersons.

The Andover Garden Club conducted a holiday auction at its monthly meeting this week. Here, James Cowdery is assisted by Mrs. Kay Noyes in offering a floral display for bid.

Junior Gardeners Win Awards

Mrs. Nancy Bromley will instruct the Andover Junior Gardeners in making Christmas decorations at the meeting scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 6 at 10 a.m. at the Bay State National Bank. Each member should bring an old pair of scissors.

Several members of the club participated in the Burlington Mall Flower Show recently with the following winners:

Artistic division: Maureen O'Brien, first; Laurel Swan, Sara Baun, Carol Ann Lange and Ruth Ann Lange, second; Jennifer Baun, third.

Horticulture division: Carol Ann Lange, Maureen O'Brien, Peter Stack, Laurel Swan, first; Robin Reynolds, Joyce Mower, Rachel Ommundson and Ruth Ann Lange, second; Donna Hoitsma, third.

Fashion Show On Saturday

A fashion show-luncheon entitled, "Babes In Toyland," will be presented by St. Robert's Country Day School at the school on Haggetts Pond Road, Andover, on Saturday, Dec. 6 at 1 p.m.

Tickets may be obtained from Pat Holt in Andover, Kathy Yannetti or Janet Busby.

Friendly Guild Meets Monday

The monthly meeting of the Friendly Guild of Christ Episcopal church, will be held on Monday, Dec. 8, at 6:30 p.m. The meeting will be followed by games and carol singing.

The committee in charge includes Christine Forsythe, chairman; Velma Robinson, Betty Dawe, Agnes Gallagher and Anna Greenhow.

At the Old South Meeting House, where Ben Franklin was christened, Samuel Adams acted as deacon and town clerk. It served both as a church and as a meeting house for any Boston Town Meeting that was too big for Faneuil Hall. The most famous such meeting triggered the Boston Tea Party.

School Board Aims To Stop Score Drop

College Board scores in Andover will stop going down this year - if the school committee has its way.

The schoolmen Tuesday night stated their desire to halt the downward trend now, and turn the scores upward again within the next few years.

Their expression came after a two-week report on 1975 college entrance testing by High School Principal Philip Wormwood and Head Guidance Counselor Robert Perry.

While Andover still scores better than Massachusetts, New England and the rest of the country on SAT - last year's scores continued the downhill plunge of the past 10 years.

Wormwood last week told the committee that Andover's math scores dropped another five points in 1975, to 488; and verbal scores, 14 points to 446.

At the same time, national scores dropped eight points in math to 472, and 10 points in the verbals, to 434.

Concerning him even more than SAT scores, Chairman Frank Griggs said this week, were the verbal achievements.

On the English composition tests, Andover dropped from 503 in 1974, to 495 in 1975. The national averages for the same years were 518 and 515.

Committeeman George Olesen said he wanted to know if the achievement scores had ever dropped below the national average before William Becker became department head.

While Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert asked if that were an appropriate question, Griggs said it was one that could be asked.

Becker and Math Head

James Murphy were on hand last week to tell what their departments are doing to beef up the skill areas particularly tested by the SAT's.

Murphy said the Math department was trying to steer those pupils who shouldn't be taking the tests into a "basics" program. For those who go into higher-level courses, a maintenance program provides a weekly review of skills previously covered.

Becker explained efforts toward improving vocabulary, and said he has also encouraged teachers to have weekly drills in basic skill areas.

Wormwood and Perry said last week that the decline in college board scores is a national phenomenon that has been baffling educators across the country as well.

"I don't know the answer," Wormwood said, "and the College Board people don't know the answer either."

He added, however, that the latter have commissioned a blue ribbon panel to make a two-year study of the drops.

One possibility, mentioned elsewhere as well, is that more pupils are taking the test. In the past, only the top students did.

Some 70 percent of Andover High seniors took the exams last year, according to Wormwood. Fifty-four percent went on to four-year colleges.

While the number taking the tests has increased, Wormwood says Andover High loses a number of potential high scorers every year to private schools.

About 30 pupils went to Phillips Academy last year.

Furthermore, he said, many juniors take the SAT's and if they score high, don't bother to retake them as seniors.

One curiosity Tuesday night was why New Hampshire scores were higher than other New England states last year.

Olesen cited a 1971 test in which scores were higher in areas where the least was spent for education.

Mrs. James A. Mazzola

Mazzola - Moreau

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Mazzola are at home on Wear Street, Lawrence, following their marriage November 1.

The bride is the former Sharlene Mae Moreau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Moreau, and the groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Anthony A. Mazzola of Westford. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mase of Wayland were his pro tem parents.

The Rev. Thomas Call officiated at the 2 o'clock ceremony at the West Parish Church, Andover.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of chantilly lace over pale blue silk organza, in a Victorian silhouette with matching lace, and a pale blue silk illusion mantilla headpiece.

She carried a colonial bouquet of blue roses and sprays of baby's breath with pale blue silk ribbons.

Mrs. Thomas N. Moreau, the bride's sister-in-law, served as her matron of honor, and bridesmaids included Mrs.

George Gorgizian, Miss Darlene Meuse, the bride's niece; and Miss Rosemary Tasca.

Bruce Clough was best man and ushers were Thomas Moreau, the bride's brother; Michael Mase, the groom's cousin; and Joseph Viera, Jr.

The bride's daughters, Sheryl Ann and Aileen Mae Auchterlonie, were flower girls, and the groom's godson, James Perry, was ringbearer.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Moose Lodge in North Reading, with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clements, the bride's sister and brother-in-law, as hosts. The bride's niece, Miss Linda Moreau, attended the guest book.

The new Mrs. Mazzola graduated from Andover High School and attended Lowell Technological Institute. She heads the Adjustment Department at the Bay State National Bank.

Her husband, a graduate of Lowell High School, also attended Lowell Technological

Green Wreath Workshop

The Andover-North Andover YMCA will conduct Green Wreath Workshops during the holiday season. Two such programs are scheduled each requiring attendance at two morning sessions 10-11:30 a.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays. The instructor will be Barbara Lybrand and registrations are being accepted on a first come basis at the new YMCA with enrollment open to Full Privilege and Basic YMCA members.

One workshop is enrolled to the maximum, but a few openings remain in the program to be conducted on Dec. 16 and 18. When registering a materials sheet will be provided including items to be brought to the first class.

Corey Staid Work On Display

The art works chosen to illustrate the 1976 Mutual calendar are on display at the insurance companies' home office in Wakefield through Dec. 22. The exhibition is open to the public weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Included in the exhibit is "Johanna's Chair" by Andover artist Cory Staid.

Over the years, the use of original paintings and photographs in the calendar has become a delightful tradition. It began in 1963, and the enthusiastic reception of the idea by those using the calendars led to its continuation.

Each fall, 24,000 calendars are printed and distributed across the country. Company branch and district sales managers divide their allotments among their industrial and personal lines sales representatives. The representatives then present copies of the calendar to American Mutual policyholders and prospects.

Children's Movies At Bancroft

A series of cartoons and adventure films will be shown at the Bancroft School, on the first three Saturdays in December.

The first show on Dec. 6 will be a cartoon carnival with a feature length movie, starring that fabulous fellow, Fred Flintstone. Short features starring Donald Duck, Mickey Mouse and all the Disney gang, will also be shown to make this a fun filled afternoon.

Dec. 13 will be fun and adventure with the "Shaggy Dog," the story of a man who turns into a big shaggy dog and upsets friends and police alike as he races around town in a hot rod car. No dog should act like this one does. A Marx Brothers short will also be shown.

On Dec. 20, The Great Bank Robbery - a wildly funny Western, made in the style of a mad, mad, world. The action will keep you jumping through the entire show. Woody Woodpecker will round out the afternoon, with his usual wild antics.

Popcorn will be on sale at all shows.

Movies will start promptly at 2 p.m. and will end at 4 p.m.

Adult supervision will be provided.

Institute. He is assistant foreman of Stronghold Masonry Co. in Wayland.

The couple took a wedding trip along the New England coastline.

First Woman Treasurer, Atty. Greeley, Succumbs

A concelebrated Mass of the Resurrection was offered in St. Augustine's church Monday morning for Atty. Anna M. Greeley, Andover's first woman treasurer, who died suddenly Friday.

Atty. Greeley had worked at her Punchard Avenue law offices on Wednesday. She was found dead at her 8 Smithshire Estates home late Friday morning. Dr. Frank A. Hayden, medical examiner, said death was due to an acute myocardial infection.

Concelebrants of the Mass for Atty. Greeley who had served as town treasurer for 16 years prior to her retirement, were Rev. Edward G. Robinson, O.S.A., pastor, Rev. David J. Kelley, O.S.A., Rev. Michael F. DiGregorio, O.S.A. and Rev. Stanley C. Smith, O.S.A., of St. Augustine's parish.

William A. Doherty, a school committeeman for over 35 years and who had served with Miss Greeley on the board, delivered the eulogy.

Dr. Richard F. McGrail and James D. Doherty of St. Augustine's Parish Council and Sister Mary Rosalie, S.N.D., principal of St. Augustine's school gave the readings.

The bearers were John Harrington, Richard Harrington, George Potter, Attys. Andrew Shea and Phillip Sullivan who were associated with Atty. Greeley in law practice and Andover Collector-Treasurer Myron H. Muise.

Burial was in St. Patrick's Cemetery, Lowell.

Delegations were present from The Lawrence Bar Association, Bon Secours Guild, Court St. Monica, Catholic Daughters of America, Andover Chapter American Red Cross, Andover town officials and town hall employees.

Born in Boston, Miss Greeley was educated in Boston and Reading schools and graduated from Punchard High School.

The daughter of the late James E. and Delia A. (Sullivan) Greeley, she continued her education at Boston University and was a graduate of Portia Law school, now known as the New England School of Law.

She was elected to the Andover school committee and served as its chairman for several years prior to running for the position of town treasurer. She was re-elected to the latter post on many occasions prior to the position becoming appointive under the town manager form of government in 1958. She continued as the treasurer by appointment until her retirement five years ago.

James Greeley, her father, was a prominent Andover businessman for many years.

A member of St. Augustine's parish, Atty. Greeley was a member of the Parish Council, and was a member and former Regent of the Catholic Daughters of America.

She held membership in the Lawrence Bar Association, Massachusetts Bar Association and Massachusetts Association of Women Lawyers.

Atty. Greeley was also a corresponding secretary of the Andover Chapter American Red Cross, a Trustee of the Margaret G. Towle Fund of Andover, and held membership in the Lawrence Garden Club and Andover Historical Society.

She is survived by several cousins.

Funeral services were under the co-direction of the Lundgren Funeral Home and M.A. Burke Memorial Funeral Home.

Memorial gifts may be sent to either Lawrence General Hospital, Bon Secours Hospital, or Medical Missionaries of Mary.

Eulogy To Miss Greeley

The eulogy delivered by William A. Doherty at the funeral of Atty. Anna M. Greeley, Monday in St. Augustine's church:

I have been asked to say a few words in tribute to Anna Greeley. I first came to know Anna when we were students together in old Punchard High School. I have known her to be a fine character, strong, straightforward, righteous, charitable and God-fearing.

Her goodness emanated from her family background and her bringing up. She had a fine father and a good mother and when she lost her mother, she had the influence of a good aunt, Aunt Joe. Anna was closely associated and traveled a great deal with her father and I often felt that she took on his ways, the abilities and the thoughts of a good man.

Anna and I served together for six years on the Andover School Committee and having served on the board myself for thirty-nine years with some forty other people, I came to have a deep appreciation for her honesty, sincerity and integrity in her devotion to the Town and to the Schools. Many people when they face the problems of politics and the pressures upon them weaken and submit and since they are unable to make decisions, seek the easy way out and tend to follow the majority even though they are not sure that it is the right thing to do. Anna Greeley was not of this type.

Anna was a deep thinker. She listened to both sides and sought out the truth. She made her own decisions in accordance with her own conscience and regardless of any political pressures. After retiring from the School Committee, Anna was elected to the office of Town Treasurer, which she retained for sixteen years. I often wondered why she bothered with that job but I realized that she had a deep sense of responsibility to the Town. She certainly didn't need the job but she enjoyed doing something worthwhile. She served for some time on the parish council. She was chairman of the finance committee and the parish owes her a debt of gratitude.

Today as we gather here in the presence of the Blessed Sacrament and in the presence of her last earthly, lifeless remains, we join in prayers for her soul and we think of the judgement to which we must all come some day. There is no doubt in my mind but that when the angel of death escorted her soul to the gates of Heaven, she was met there by Christ Himself and most certainly, he said to her, "Come, ye blessed of My Father into the kingdom prepared for you for all eternity."

KATHLEEN B. GOEBEL

Mrs. Kathleen B. (Hunt) Goebel, 48 Surrey Drive, North Andover, a retired supervisor of the New England Telephone business office, died Sunday at Stevens Hall Convalescent Home after a long illness. She was 76.

'HAVE WE NOT ALL ONE FATHER? HATH NOT ONE GOD CREATED US?' Malachi 2:10

A lot of people acknowledge God as Father. But do they really understand the man He made?

As you get a deeper understanding of the Bible, the spiritual nature of man and of all creation appears. Then Christian unity and the brotherhood of man appear in your life, too.

Selections from the Bible and Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, to be read in our church service this Sunday, will help you understand the Bible's message of brotherly love in a new light.

We'd love to welcome you.

Board Scores

Perry said he knew that pupils who take the tests in New Hampshire are primarily college-bound. Those who are not, he said, start preparing from the year one for an alternative.

Perry added that he was not sure as many students are as serious about their educations as they were 10 years ago, or as willing to make a commitment of time.

People are not reading as much, he said, predicting that would cause reading and vocabulary scores to drop even further.

Boston Latin School

A schoolhouse built near the present Boston City Hall was the origin of the Boston Public Latin School, the first public school in this country. Many famous men have gone there, including Rev. Cotton Mather, Emerson, Samuel Adams, Hancock, Franklin, and other signers of the Declaration of Independence.

During the Christmas season, Germans and Rumanians bake long, thin cakes that symbolize the Christ Child wrapped in swaddling clothes.

"I wish some people wouldn't get this upset over one score," he went on. "When they used to take IQ tests, some parents would then say, 'My son's brighter than yours.'"

"Now," he said, "it's 'my town is better than yours.' He said he didn't think that was right, because 'numbers aren't that accurate.'"

"We can do something," he added, "but parents and pupils have to help, too."

The school committee indicated it intended to take a long, hard look at curriculum in the next couple of months to see if Andover pupils are being taught what the committee feels they should be taught.

Raising competency in the basics, they said, should in turn raise test scores.

Fact Finder

Counsel Alfred Daniels, negotiators for the town to review the fact finders report which has recommended a six percent salary increase effective July 1, 1975 and an additional two percent effective Jan. 1, 1976.

The selectmen, following closed door discussions with Austin and counsel reported they had given policy direction to the two men to carry on further discussions with the union.

Chairman Milton Greenberg said the board discussion was relative to guidance for the manager and counsel in further negotiation proceedings. The board was working on establishing some policy direction to be carried back to the bargaining table.

The negotiations started out over a year ago with a request for an eight percent increase in salary, while the town had offered the workers a four percent pay hike.

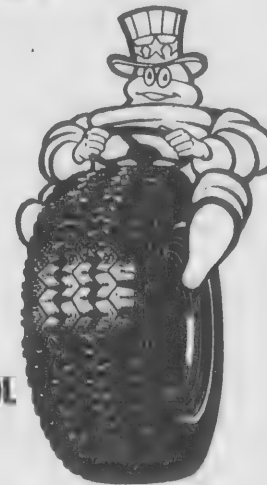

Town Manager Austin reported that many of the original requests made by the union have since been lessened since the onset of the negotiating process.

The stipulations are for a one year contract.

Messina Bros. - Experts in Upholstering
Your fine furniture cannot be replaced today - when it shows signs of wear, reupholstering is the answer! Messina Bros. Furniture Upholstery at 165-167 South Broadway in Lawrence will upholster your sofas, chairs, any furniture to your complete satisfaction.
Call Messina Bros. at 683-2205 and your piece of furniture will be picked up at your home or place of business. Their representative will provide you with samples of fabrics, advise you on any work, and give you a free estimate. They have every type of fabric imaginable, from luxurious velvets and Belgian linens to washables and practical vinyls, and are equipped to handle any job, large or small, residential or commercial.
At their shop, your piece of furniture will be stripped down; springs will be replaced where needed; it will be tied and padded like new. When the interior reconstruction has passed inspection under the careful eye of these experienced craftsmen, then the outer covering will be applied and your furniture will be delivered to you. Messina Bros. also makes drapes and has a large selection of fabrics, many that match or coordinate with upholstery fabrics.
The restoration of antique autos is another phase of operations at the same address. Columbia Auto Seat Covers, well known in this area for the past 30 years as a complete auto cover and interior shop, also restores antique cars. They take special care to locate original fabrics and parts for authentic restoration.
The Messina family of Andover has been in this business for many years, passing their craft down from generation to generation. They know what they are doing and stand behind all their work.
Call them at 683-2205 or stop by their shop at 165-167 South Broadway, Lawrence.

Susan Squibb and Kathy Delucia stand by one of the many messages decorating the walls at Andover High school this week, in support of the football team in defense of their Division II state title on Saturday.

Super Bowl

Warriors' linebackers are Drivas, Stabile and Tom Kenney, while at halfback Bob Hoelzel and Dave Mirisola will patrol the territory. Verrette completes the talented secondary at free safety.

Practices

Andover moved right back into practice preparations last Saturday morning, 48 hours after the 6-6 Thanksgiving Day tie against Central, with a light workout and subsequent team meeting.

"We went through regular sessions Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, except that they were about 15 minutes shorter because it gets darker that much earlier," noted Collins with a laugh.

Today (Thursday) Andover bused to Boston for a lengthy workout from 1 p.m. to 2:45 p.m. on the astroturf at Nickerson Field. Plymouth-Carver was due for a practice at the same site from 3-4:45 o'clock.

A light workout tomorrow will complete the pre-game activities, and then it's early to bed and early to rise.

"We had two more workouts than usual this week, so we'll be ready," observed Collins.

Injuries

At this writing the Golden Warriors were close to 100 percent healthy. Placekicker Paul Derby, who viewed the Central game on crutches with his right foot in a cast, is back and has been working out this week.

"He may do the extra point kicking Saturday," offered Collins, "but if not, we have Alexander ready again."

Gerry St. Onge, a reserve defensive end and center, hurt his knee during a practice at the Phillips-Academy cage a while ago and is the only doubtful performer.

Plymouth-Carver

Plymouth-Carver captured the Old Colony League championship with a 7-0-1 record this past year, and Collins has been able to get a bit of a line on them since Thanksgiving Day.

"We had taken a long look at Don Bosco late in the year," observed Collins, "primarily because they played their games on Sunday. But they were beaten (by St. John's Prep) and knocked from contention."

"You simply can't scout everyone, but we gambled on Thanksgiving morning and sent Biff Moriarty (JV assistant) to look at P-C against Silver Lake. Fortunately we guessed right. We also exchanged two game films with them which is customary," added Collins.

"They are a power running team, operating out of the power-I and wing-t formations basically," explained Collins. "They have a wealth of good, strong running backs. I truthfully haven't seen many teams with that many decent, big backs."

"They don't pass that often... only as a change of pace... but they can burn you with the pass when you don't expect it. That makes it a dangerous weapon," related Andover's "teacher-of-the-year."

"Defense is definitely their strong point. The players stay at home, and are rarely caught out of position. They only allowed 36 points all year in 10 games," related Collins.

The lone blemish on Plymouth-Carver's record was a 0-0 tie against weak Whitman-Hanson (2-5-1), a team drubbed by Dracut 35-14 at the start of the season.

But it was in the rain, pointed out Collins. "The same weekend we beat Wilmington 6-

Sparkling that horde of excellent running backs for Coach Paul Urban's team is Joe Britto, the second leading scorer in E. Mass. Division II with 15 touchdowns and 96 total points.

"I'd say he is their best back," offered Collins, "but I just can't see that much difference between him and the rest of them. This kid Fernandez, their monster-man and fullback, looks to be the best all-around player they have."

Briefly, P-C has another breakaway threat in Evo Alberti who won All-Scholastic honors as a junior along with Andover's Glenn Verrette, and the opposition also shows a fine placekicker in Bill Hollis.

Astroturf Advantage?

Collins doesn't buy the theory that his club has an edge because some of the players have been to the Bowl before, and have played on the astroturf surface.

"It's difficult to say," commented the coach. "Take a fine athlete like Verrette... he's going to play well anywhere whether the surroundings are familiar or strange."

"If Plymouth-Carver didn't have a chance to practice on the astroturf before the game I'd say we had an advantage. But once they've seen it (Nickerson Field) for the first time the awe of being on a college campus will wear off quickly," remarked Collins.

Weather A Factor

With the memories of last Thursday's mudbath against Central still fresh in his mind, Collins is praying for good weather Saturday.

"I hope we can play this game under conditions that are suitable for running our offense. We have some talented kids and I'd like to be able to turn them loose," offered the skipper.

"Two rainy days almost did us in this season. When you stop to think about it we faced the two other best teams in the MVC (Wilmington and Central) on days when we couldn't run our entire offense. We were fortunate to survive," explained Collins. "Neither day was a good test of my club."

Conference or Bowl?

Given his choice of a Conference championship or a Super Bowl berth, Collins opted for an undefeated season above both those honors.

"I'd rather go unbeaten and not qualify for the Bowl, than lose a game and still make it," stated the AHS leader. "In other words, if we went undefeated and finished third in the ratings it wouldn't bother me much."

"Look at Salem. They lost one game by a single point (15-14 to Saugus) and they're out of it."

Evaluation

"We entered this season more optimistic than we did last season," said Collins. "We had strong doubts about our

Standex Sales Down

Standex International Corporation (NYSE) announced that first quarter earnings declined approximately 14 per cent on an 8 per cent drop in sales.

In the quarter ended Sept. 30, 1975, net income amounted to $1,348,000, or 49 cents per common share, compared with $1,560,000, or 57 cents per common share in the prior year. Sales in the latest quarter amounted to $41,235,000, compared with $44,609,000 a year ago.

Daniel E. Hogan, recently named Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive, stated that "the recent trend of our business continues to improve. We expect that fiscal 1976 results will be considerably better than fiscal 1975." He estimated that earnings for the full fiscal year "should be somewhere between last year's $1.96 per share and the record fiscal 1974 of $2.44 per share.

At its Annual Meeting last week, Standex realigned its top management as follows: Chairman John Bolten, Sr. was named Chairman of the Executive Committee and Honorary Chairman of the Board; President Daniel E. Hogan, was named Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive; Executive Vice President Warren S. Cooper was named President and Chief Operating Officer. The Board also announced a quarterly dividend of 14 cents per common share, payable Nov. 25, 1975 to stockholders of record as of Nov. 7, 1975.

Essex, ss.

To all persons interested in the estate of ERNEST A. NORDON late of Andover in said County, deceased.

A petition has been presented to said Court for Probate of a certain instrument purporting to be the last will of said deceased by ERNEST A. NORDON, JUNIOR of Greensboro in the State of North Carolina and FRANKLIN A. NORDON of Warwick in the State of Rhode Island, praying that they be appointed executors thereof, without giving a surety on their bonds.

If you desire to object thereto you or your attorney should file a written appearance in said Court at Salem before ten o'clock in the forenoon on the fifteenth day of December 1975, the return day of this citation.

Witness, ALBERT P. PETTORUTO, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this eighteenth day of November 1975.

JOHN J. COSTELLO, Register
Nov. 26; Dec. 4, 11, 1975

Students Tell Of Crowded Conditions At High School

Andover High students who feel like studying during their free periods don't always have a place to do it.

That's the picture painted by Student Advisory Council member Ginger Eaton Tuesday night, and the school committee has asked for a full report on the study hall situation from the administration.

"Overcrowding isn't a new problem," Ginger began, "it's been with us many years."

Last year, she said, "many of us were shocked that we had to use a large group room for home room. This year, when the whole cafeteria had to be used, were really shocked."

capabilities in 1974, but after last year's success we felt this current team would do very well.

"Considering the fact we lost Bill Alexander for a large portion of the season, I'd say we are well satisfied with 9-0-1.

"The most pleasant surprises this season were the fine play of Mitch Rousseau in relief of Alexander when he was hurt, and the way Scott Collins came along and developed as a lineman," noted Coach Collins.

"The return of Ken Lafleur will help us Saturday, too. He had a broken bone in his spine, and he still wasn't himself when he returned to the lineup. But Ken showed that he's back at full strength in the Central game, and it couldn't have come at a better time.

"Lafleur is a big 170-pound running back, and his presence enables us to give Bobby Hoelzel a breather," explained Collins.

Collins chuckled when asked if he had anything new to spring on Plymouth-Carver offensively.

"We haven't had a chance to

She said the library fills up so fast that students who want to use its facilities or check out books, can't. And while the cafeteria is open to pupils who aren't otherwise assigned to a class, she says it's so noisy that one can't possibly study.

"What are you going to do next year?" she asked the committee, "start sticking them in the halls?"

She added students are unhappy with many recent changes and that she feels school spirit is being hurt.

"You can't have a student-teacher relationship," she said. "If the teacher doesn't have a class, then he's monitoring the hall."

do one-half the things we have in our offense over the 10 regular-season games, so don't expect any changes now," observed the coach.

A special added incentive for Collins on Saturday will be to win for his own high school coach, Lou Farber.

"He is coming all the way from Arizona to be inducted into the Rhode Island High School Coaches Hall of Fame, and while he is back in New England he's coming to see our game. I'm excited about that," stated Collins.

The student body has once again responded well to the Golden Warriors' achievements.

"The kids have been busy decorating the hallways and putting up signs all week," revealed Collins, whose daughter Carolyn is the co-captain of the cheerleading squad and president of the senior class.

"There may be some sort of rally on Friday, and interest is high once again.

"For me the worst part is all the turmoil of getting ready," added Collins. "By the end of the week I'm climbing the walls."

SAC Chairman Bill Alexander added that students also have a hard time getting help because the teachers won't stay after school, due to the "work action" their partaking in.

Ginger added that the auditorium was to have been added 10 years after the school was built.

"We can live without an auditorium," she said, "but we really can't live without classrooms."

"Do you mean to tell me that every seat in every classroom is being used?" Committeeman George Olesen asked.

Principal Philip Wormwood responded that there are two periods when every room is used, and that there aren't ever many empty rooms.

What rooms are unused have been closed this year, he said, because of vandalism. There just isn't staff, he said, to keep them supervised.

Chairman Frank Griggs said his main concern is that a kid who really wants to study has no place to go. He called those empty classrooms an "underutilized resource" and asked if the student committee couldn't help monitor them.

Wormwood said that students were once assigned to the back of a classroom during their free periods, when study hall space was unavailable. But, he said, that practice was abandoned "as fast as possible" because of class interference.

A side effect of the overcrowded library Alexander said, is that many books are being lost to students who just take them without checking them out. Only two library supervisors are on hand to watch the library that's so crowded, pupils are sitting on the floor.

Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert said that last year 200 letters were sent home to parents of youths who had checked out library books and not returned.

Wormwood said they got only 11 responses.
